

Manuel Hartung - Resume

Manuel Hartung, born 1981 in Fritzlar, has been chairman of the Board of Directors of the ZEIT-Stiftung Ebelin und Gerd Bucerius since January 2022.

Previously he headed the WISSEN section of the weekly newspaper DIE ZEIT from 2019 and was publisher-editor of ZEIT CAMPUS, ZEIT GERMANY, and ZEIT SPEZIAL. Manuel Hartung has been engaged with DIE ZEIT on an uninterrupted basis since 2004 – including positions as editor-in-chief of ZEIT CAMPUS, as managing director of the ZEIT-Verlag subsidiary TEMPUS CORPORATE, and – between 2015 and 2019 – as head of the education section CHANCEN.

Manuel Hartung attended the Henri Nannen School of Journalism in Hamburg und studied history in Bonn and New York as well as public administration at Harvard.

He has instructed in the past at the Universities of St. Gallen and Göttingen and at present teaches at the Institute for Arts and Media Management – a branch of Hamburg's Hochschule für Musik und Theater – where he was appointed as professor in 2021.

Manual Hartung has served on the Board of Trustees of Bucerius Law School since 2017. Further, in 2022 he became chairman of both Bucerius Law School's Supervisory Board and the Bucerius Kunst Forum's Board of Trustees. He has been a member of the Futurium Program Council since 2023. He previously served on the University Council of the Hochschule Coburg, on the Advisory Board of Common Purpose Deutschland, and on the Wertekommission's Board of Directors.
